EVALUATION

After you have tested your product, it's time to evaluate. Remember to include what went well, what you found challenging and any changes you needed to make along the way. Consider how well the specification has been met. Finally, identify what you would do differently next time.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____